

Enjoy the “White Nights” of Finland at the Global Faculty Research Colloquium 10-12 June 2018

Valuing innovation and leadership in higher education: The classroom and beyond

A major challenge faced by higher education faculty is how to deliver and support innovative pedagogical solutions in environment characterised by changing technology, economic condition and globalisation. This requires new conceptions of learning, competences, learning environments, leadership and faculty roles among others. The presentations will focus on the following themes: Innovative higher education pedagogics in the classroom and excellence in higher education leadership in a service/administrative role.
